I RISE TO REMARK

BY JOHN PHILLIPS

We got away on September 1st, not exactly as sceduled, but on the way to Sacramento and the Bay Region. The trip to Hanford, intended for these ten days, will be postponed until November, and the Bay Region inspections, set for later, will be made now. That will get me back to Santa Ana, to make my annual "Report" at an open meeting there, on the evening of the 10th.

As a confirmed county fair addict, it was good to find the opening of the State Fair on the 2nd could fit into the new schedule. The Governor and his family arrived in an old Wells-Fargo stage coach, to open the gates and put up the flag, and almost the next item on the program was the presentation of two young date trees to the State Fair on behalf of Riverside County,

Senator Nelson Dilworth of Hemet did the honors, handing a scroll, hand-lettered, to Fred Bixby of Long Beach, the President of the Board of Directors of the State Fair, while other directors, H. O. Davis of Indio, and Ward Walkup of San Francisco looked on appreciatively and I hovered in the background, smiling the stock smile of a man in public life getting photographed and trying to prevent an old friend, M. D. Bradshaw, the cameraman, from catching me sideface (which was one of nature's oversights), and keeping an eye on Max Bookman, who had his eye, in turn, on the water being used for background effects in various buildings.

The rest of the "atmosphere" was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sedwell, (Joe and Joe), formerly of Indio, who had a date booth there and who brought up the trees from Lee Anderson's ranch; Mrs. Lenora Koehler of the Indio Florists, and Mrs. Trinidad Manzo, of Indio, who makes a most attractive Arabian, for all that group wore Arabian costumes. Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Bookman completed the group. Quite a reunion.

We did the Fair, toe and heel, and stayed overnight in Sacramento. Friday we went to San Francisco for the annual luncheon of the American Legion, at convention time, for men in public life. Before I get home again, I will have seen a dozen government laboratories or plants and attended the annual 'John Phillips' Luncheon" arranged by my farm friends in the North, where we talk over our problems for the year ahead.

DEALER REPRESENTED IN SANTA ANA SHOW

Exhibiting some of her most valuable collector's items of china and early American pressed glass, Mrs. Fred Walley intends to be a part of the Santa Ana antique show at the Ebell club house starting September 14 and continuing through the 17.

Managed by Thelma Shull of Pasadena, the show will be one of the most interesting of its kind in this area. It will be "field day" for the collectors of antique items who are on the lookout for furniture, bric-a-brac, china and glassware and all other sought-after pieces to add to their collections, since all items will be for sale. Mrs. Walley estimates that there will be at least 25 individual exhibitors when the show opens, and there may be considerable more.

FINAL FLURRY OF ACTIVITY AS WHITE GOLD DAY APPROACHES

It's getting closer to celebration day in Cypress. Inevitable signs are beginning to appear, heralding the announcement that Saturday, September 18 is "White Gold Day!" Since September first towns-people are showing a universal spirit of cooperation by wearing the official badge as they go about their daily tasks, and those in the downtown area, particularly, are gay and festive in the official costume, plaid or gingham dresses for the women with here and there a pigtail showing, and white shirts and blue jeans for the men.

The streets are gaily decorated for fiesta day, and announce to the world that Cypress has a gala event "up its sleeve." Private cars carry the message in some form or other as the drivers go about routine tasks, and people's faces are beginning to acquire that long, gaunt look of the worried and harassed as the event draws nearer and the planning and work gets heavier.

But it's all for a good cause—a recreation park for the children, land for which was purchased last year, but which must be paid for within the next nine years. With the excitement of a parade, queen, horse show, tour of the dairies, vaudeville show, carnival, barbecue and auction—it will be a great day!

Working on the various committees as chairmen are the following: Construction, Price Siebert and Fred Mackay, co-chairmen; Fancy work, Mary Strempel; Decorating, Joyce Strempel and Gerry Ausburn, co-chairmen; Candy, Lee Stradley and Earnest Mitchell, co-chairmen; Change, Mrs. Russel Flynn; Bingo, Mrs. Odermatt; Hot Dog, Don Wedeking (V.F.W.); Judge and Jailer, Andy Castro; Electricans, G. Rust; Pop Corn, Mrs. Thelma Costa, and Loud Speakers, Forrest Lowrey.

Notice!

For those who have never visited a modern dairy, or would be interested in inspecting a number of locally owned dairies in this vicinity, it has been arranged to provide a tour on White Gold Day, beginning at approximately two o'clock, at the schoolhouse. This was also one of the courtesies extended visitors last year to the celebration which honors milk—white gold—and the dairy industry. in which Cypress is geographically the center.

The dairymen extend this invitation especially to those who are not familiar with the latest in modern equipment.

School Opens September 13 At Centralia

Centralia school will open on Monday, September 13, with the school bus following the same route as it did the first part of last year. Children are asked to bring their lunches for an all day session the first day. Milk and ice cream bars may be purchased at the school.

The former home economics building has been remodeled to make the third and fourth grade class room. Asphalt tile has been put on the floor and blackboards and cupboards installed.

A small kitchen has been equipped for the use of the P-T.A. when serving refreshments and a building fund has been established out of this year's budget to plan for future development of the school. Out-of-door lunch facilities have been enlarged and recovered.

Another teacher has been added to the faculty, making six, three of which are new this year. The first grade will be taught by Mrs. Genevieve Muenster of Anaheim, who has had 16 years experience in teaching in New York state and one year in the McKinley school in Los Angeles. Mrs. Helen Reisterer of Anaheim will again teach the second and part of the third grade. Previous to coming to Centralia school, she taught in Michigan several years and one year in Savanna.

This year will be the first of teaching for Miss Virginia Hunter who lives with her parents at Costa Mesa. She studied at Santa Ana Junior college and was graduated from Santa Barbara State Teachers' college. She will teach the third and fourth grades and will also have charge of girls' physical education. Mrs. Marie Fowler came to Centralia last year after teaching several years in the Colorado schools after graduating from Colorado Teachers' college. She makes her home with her mother in Santa Ana. She will teach the fourth and fifth grades.

Reynold E. Lindroth, who lives in Huntington Beach is new this year with Centralia but taught last year in Inglewood. He will have charge of the boys' physical education, as well as the sixth and seventh grades. Glen Dysinger will be the principal and teach the eighth grade. He lives in Fullerton and has taught a number of years in LaHabra and El Toro following graduation from Santa Barbara and post graduate work at Claremont college.

LAWYER INVITED TO STUDY C OF C PAPERS

Meeting with the original committee chairman Dan T. Mackay last Wednesday evening at the schoolhouse, were several members of the Cypress chamber of commerce who were interested in seeing that the papers of the organization's incorporation were properly processed. Invited to be present and act as counsel was Ridley C. Smith, lawyer from Santa Ana.

The papers have been returned on two previous occasions, and to properly protect individual members of the organization, it is felt necessary to have the transaction completed and legalized for the best interests of all.

With the help of Attorney Smith, it is hoped that the State incorporation board in Sacramento will see fit to accept the application to incorporate the Cypress Chamber of Commerce at this time. It has been over a year since the original proceedings were instituted.

Present at the meeting were Chairman Mackay, president Stan Doerr, acting secretary A. E. Arnold, Otho Switzer, R. V. Hathcock, Frank Noe, H. A. Kelley.

TWO MEMBERS ADDED TO FIREMEN'S ROSTER

At a meeting of the Cypress Volunteer Firemen's Association last Monday evening, two men were "sworn in" to the local organization. W. R. Dye of Cypress Manor and K. B. Giles, of Nelson street, bring the strength of the group to 16 members.

Interested primarily in selling tickets to help swell the fund to build a park for the children in the community — the goal of White Gold Days — which is celebrated in Cypress on Saturday, September 18, each one of the girls pictured is a potential "queen." The winner will have the honor of "reigning" for the entire day, and in addition will win a complete fall ensemble, which is the first prize. They are, left to right, front row: Peggy Flynn, Louise Lowery, Phyllis Raley, Pat Sadler, Elaine Miranda, Beverly Cook, and back row: Nancy Allen, Marian Hammond, Carol Dewell, Marie DeGennaro, Dolores Carden and Shirlee Boudreau. — (Press-Telegram Photo.)

IT'S BEING SAID -- IN CYPRESS

That it was kinda' fun to watch the reactions of drivers of moving vehicles through town Friday morning after the stop signs were put in place. Operators on their regular routes were, for the most part oblivious, accustomed as they were to speeding through in the daily routine. We'll bet a Tanner busload of sightseers on tour know now where Cypress is. Most surprised must have been motorists who drove through in the early morning hours without having to slow down, only to be brought to a dead stop on their return trip. Hardest of all to become accustomed to the new acquisitions are local citizens themselves, who just can't believe it! Now when Mayor Dick Drake of Newport Beach, who admits to having traveled this highway meets us the next time he'll Know where Cypress is, and won't have to ask us twice! A feeling of gratefulness is felt to the state and to the responsible supervisor for having the signs installed just in the nick of time to control the heavy holiday weekend traffic, and indications that it was going to be terrific could be seen as early as Friday morning.

That among the luckier people to have a really special holiday over the Labor Day week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Flynn, who, with the "Mike" Michaels' of Garden Grove, took a motor trip to Reno, Nevada, and surrounding points of interest. They didn't say which one, but it was the Flynn's wedding anniversary. We know they had good weather up there, because we listened for awhile to the broadcast from the golf tourney being held, and Lawson Little said the weather was "perfect."

That "Chuck" Brown's face after the holiday weekend resembled that of a prize fighter who lost. He says that's what you get when you train horses. But we just can't help but wonder.

That it may have been a holiday for some, but in at Doerr's sundries the results of their labors really show up with those swivel seats at the fountain all nicely covered with a red plastic rubber material, made fast with decorative white and black tacks. Veddy professional looking, too. And with the help going all-out for "White Gold Day" with attractive oilcloth aprons laced with gold ribbon it gives yet a festive air.

That we "hand writ" an editorial this week, but don't look on page two in the proper column if you don't want to read it!

That we just get our coffee pal Jo Addington back from Oklahoma when we hear rumors that Father John has decided to be a welder over in Montebello and will desert Cypress and the shoe repair shop. There ain't no justice.

Police Patrol Horses to Race At Vessels Ranch

Sunday, September 12th, will again be Race Day at Vessels Ranch, Los Alamitos. It is expected to be one of considerable importance and a lot of fun.

One of the major items on the program will be an unofficial race between several members of the Long Beach Mounted Police Patrol. As usual where horsemen and horses are congregated, arguments have arisen from time to time in the course of parades and other Mounted Police activities about which member has the fastest horse. They have decided to settle the discussion at Vessels Ranch on September 12th.

Then there will be the race between this year's colts which is always a popular part of the program during the last half of each year, especially for the kids. All of this year's colts are separated from their mothers by a couple of hundred yards and then turned loose at one time. The resulting free-for-all race between the baby colts is a sight to behold and demonstrates how Quarter Horses really love to run for the fun of it.

As usual, there will be musical entertainment by Boots and Blackie.

JUNIOR CLUB TO SELL POP CORN ON WHITE GOLD DAY

The Junior Women's club met at Anaheim park recently for a pot luck dinner and to enjoy respite from the heat. They are planning on taking charge of the pop corn booth at the White Gold Day celebration.

Attending the meeting were Mesdames Robert G. Murray and children, Mrs. George Marshall and Sharon, Mrs. Carl Beason with Jimmy and Susan, Mrs. George Costa, Mrs. Glenn Miser with Ralph and Shirley, Mrs. John DePolter and Sandra and Carolyna, Mrs. Leslie Brannan, Mrs. Bennie Pugh with Jellinda, Mrs. John Lukens with Bobby and Suzanne, Mrs. Joe Ferguson and Jeanette, Mrs. James Booher, Mrs. N. L. Chapman and Jane and her friend, Bernice Cochran of Riverside.

BOYS AND GIRLS ARE HONORED AT PROGRAM AS READING CLUB ENDS

Mrs. Ray King, Cypress librarian, announced this week that the branch library has just completed the summer reading club for children known as "the rocket club." The occasion was marked by having a small program in the local school auditorium, consisting of songs, piano solos and book reports.

A good representation of interested mothers was present to hear book reports by Janice Gerber, Ivy Giles, Janet Kemp and Marna Boch. Ivy Giles explained the organization of "the rocket club" and Elaine Miranda reported on the schedule of opening and closing hours of the library.

Music during the afternoon included singing by the group of "The Woody-woodpecker song", and "Four leaf clover", accompanied by Gerry Alleman, who also played a solo selection on the piano. Rosalie Miller played her own accompanient and sang, 'My happiness."

The librarian reports that the circulation increased from 600 to 1165 loans of books and magazines during the summer months, and she expressed the hope that both adults and children will be encouraged to patronize the library and increase its value to the community. The library is open on Monday, Wednesday and Fridays from one to five o'clock in the afternoon and on Monday nights from seven to eight o'clock.

From the reading club of 52 children, the following 26 received certificates: Gerry Alleman, Betty Benson, Marna Boch, Virginia Campbell, Wanda Cunningham, Raymond Edwards, Janice Gerber, Ronald Garrison, Ivy and Joe Giles, Floyd and Melvin Holland, Mary Lou, Peggy, and Jean Houghton, Kenneth and Beverly Howery, Janet Kemp, Rosalie Miller, Elaine Miranda, Norma and Buster Moss, Ronald Patterson, Mildred Sickler, and Doris Simmons.

Deadline Sept. 23 Vote Registration

Deadline for registration to vote in the November 2 general election is September 23, the state and local government department reminded southland citizens today.

To aid those who are eligible to qualify for the balloting deputy registars are stationed throughout the country in lobbies of office buildings in department stores, on street corners, and elsewhere.

Residence requirements are one year in California and 90 days in the county. Naturalized citizens must present their certificates the first time they register. Registration is required of those who have changed residence since the primary election or who have not voted in the last two years.

SCHOOL POSTPONED

Parents of elementary school children are reminded that due to delays in construction of the new section of the Cypress elementary school, the opening date is being postponed until September 27. Members of the school board and Miss Elizabeth Dickerson, principal, regret that this action is necessary, but feel that the reward will be well worth two weeks' inconvenience. Remember—School starts at Cypress Elementary school on September 27.

Bakersfield is scene of annual agriculture fair which features exhibits from Western states. Prize livestock will go on display along with farm products.

Since last Friday morning, when the state had installed the necessary equipment at the corner of Lincoln avenue and Walker street, Cypress has been revelling in the satisfaction of having gained a long sought and much needed four-way stop at a busy intersection. The stop signs proved a little too much for many motorists during the first few days after their installation, especially persons in the habit of traversing the highway regularly, and much screaching of brakes and burning of rubber tires resulted.

The Cypress Chamber of Commerce has been actively persistent for many months in attempting to gain a means of control to slow down the traffic through the center of town, which was not only a main artery of local traffic, but a state highway as well. To the many individuals and organizations in addition to the Chamber of Commerce which worked to convince highway officials that there was a strong need for a means of controlling the speeds of trucks and cars, much credit is due.

Morning Prowler Escapes Here

Mrs. John Coakley, 5641 Vonnie Lane, reported the presence of a prowler to the sheriff's office about two a.m. Thursday morning. The officers found size 12 footprints around the house upon their arrival, and advised Mrs. Coakley to use her gun the next time she heard the presence of an intruder.

COUNTY FIRE CHIEFS TO HAVE MONTHLY MEETING IN WHITTIER

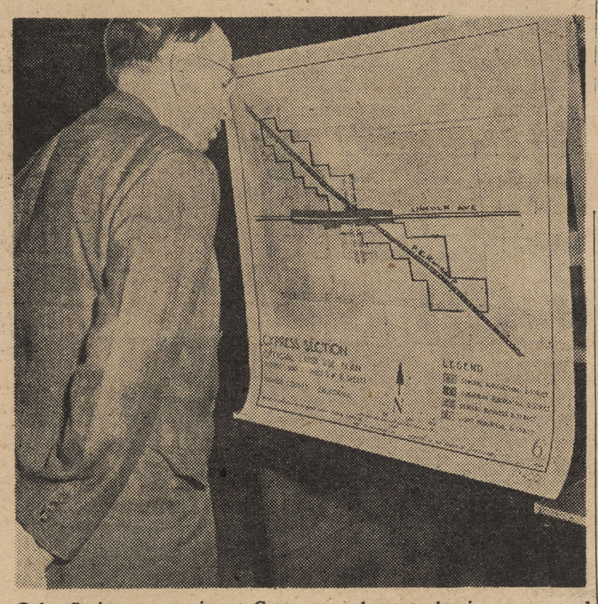
Once a month, on the third Thursday evening, the Orange county fire chiefs' association gather for a dinner meeting to discuss problems confronting its organization.

The September meeting will be held in Whittier next Thursday evening under the direction of Chief Alfred. Fire prevention week this year is October third to ninth, and will be announced by presidential proclamation. Since this is the meeting just prior to the national safety program to prevent fire!—the fifth horseman—it is presumed that the topics under discussion will evolve around plans for this all-important designated event.

Traffic On Road East Of Town Tied By Accident

A traffic accident Wednesday evening about 9:15 o'colck on Lincoln avenue east of town in front of Mrs. Sara Miller's residence was not without its spectacular aspects. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Bradshaw, of Long Beach, who were driving a brand-new heavy-type truck for the first time, en route to Fullerton, were struck by a light coupe driven by a Wilmington driver as he tried to pass. Although no one was injured, the two vehicles were badly damaged, and the heavy truck practically disintegrated. Pieces and parts were scattered over a large area along the highway, which were a part of the truck, and traffic was tied up for a good distance in both directions.

The driver of the coupe was held by state highway patrolmen, and the supposition among spectators was that the charge would probably be "drunken driving". Harvey Ellsworth, from Cypress, happened along at the psychological moment with his heavy truck to move the damaged cars from the highway.



Otho Switzer, prominent Cypress real estate businessman and member of the Chamber of Commerce, is shown studying land use zoning map presented at a recent meeting of the organization by C. H. Diggs. The map was prepared by the Orange county planning commission staff and has been under discussion at various meetings. It shows a business district along Lincoln avenue from Moody street to a block east of the Pacific Electric tracks and along Walker street from Delong street to Watson street. A group of interested property owners and businessmen from a section farther east on Lincoln avenue than pictured recently attended a meeting in Garden Grove and explained their reasons for believing the area should be extended on the map to Hansen road. As far as could be learned, there were no representatives of business west of the section designated who challenged the boundary line in that direction. The board of supervisors will inspect the map at some future meeting. — (Press-Telegram Photo.)

YOU'D BETTER STOP — THEN GO

In the morning hours on Friday, Cypress passed an important milestone in her history. When a copy of this issue of the "Enterprise" has been carefully blue-penciled, properly creased and put away, a folder in our file marked "Traffic control," will be closed, in which we have filed together all issues of this publication in which reference was made in any way to the community's effort to gain a four-way traffic stop at the corner of Lincoln avenue and Walker street.

This realization of a purpose and aim undertaken by the members of this community, we deem to be one of the finest examples of cooperation and public-spiritedness in the growth of the town. What next? We know what we would like to see done now to further exemplify this strength and that is for all of us to join in a drive to increase membership in the Cypress Chamber of Commerce. This body of representative citizens is, after all, the official agency which is instrumental in getting what the town wants and needs, and anyone can be an active member. The efforts of other organizations and individuals through the many months of endeavor played their parts and were needed, of course, but chambers of commerce are recognized throughout the nation by governmental agencies as being representative of the people.

One of the first acts we would like to see considered now by this civic-minded group is to place attractive neon-lighted signs at advantageous points informing the driving public that this is cypress, similar to those in surrounding unincorporated communities which speak a welcome upon arrival and bid adieu upon leaving the town. Day or night the friendly spirit of the message is heart-warming and arresting.

We have heard much unfair criticism concerning the local chamber of commerce and its activities, most of it from those who have not bothered to darken the doors of a chamber meeting. After all, what are members of any civic improvement group but human beings, even as we are, with the attributes of any human being? If you sit at home in an armchair, who is going to carry forward the task of building and directing a community along the proper lines of progress? We do not possess the type of missionary spirit which crusades for just anything, but much as you might oppose growth in Cypress for one reason or another — you may have moved here to settle "in the country," or you may be a dairyman who has been "squeezed out" by city living — or you may have another reason, but you must face the facts and figures. Cypress is going to grow. Not because of anybody, but in spite of everybody. You may as well be in on the foundation and help to direct its growth along healthy channels which are going to please you.

THE SCHOOL BELL RINGS

Millions of young Americans are facing their darkest hour. Vacation is nearly over. Soon the grave problems of getting up early, reaching school on time and doing home work will engage much of their time and thought. It's a bleak out-look—just now.

But in a month they'll be back in the old routine and the world won't seem like such a bad place after all. It happens every year.

The approach of the new school term brings to the fore once again the need for instructing the children more in the art of living. Literature, mathematics, science and so on are important but they lose their value to the individual if he hasn't learned good habits and how to get along with others. Even such simple things as teaching youngsters to save their nickels should be as strongly emphasized elsewhere as it is here in California. The child who has learned to save money has a big advantage in life over the one who has not.

The American public school system has added responsibilities in these days, brought on by the threat of foreign ideologies. The schools must inculcate in our children a love for democracy and an understanding of the fallacy of any scheme which would deprive anyone of his basic human rights.

Of course, this task should not be left entirely to the schools. The home and the church must help. But it behooves every parent—yes, every citizen whether he has children or not—to take a greater interest in our schools, to support every progressive step and oppose all that would weaken them.

How sound America will be tomorrow depends on how sound our schools are today.

TRAVELOGUE

Written by W. C. Miller, former publisher of West Orange County publishing company.

Highway 89 on leaving Jackson climbs out of the Hole north to the plateau that lies at the base of the Tetons and stretches eastward. The highway parellels the Tetons for some twenty miles. It is a grand experience to drift along at the base of these great peaks that reach far above the timberline. The streams from the glaciers tumble and roar down the mountain side. In the noonday sunlight these streams resemble rivers of spun glass. Twenty-five miles from Jackson we came to the Jackson lake and the Teton park. Here we stopped to lunch and to take in the museum and other points of interest. Jackson lake is long and narrow and reflects the great crags that tower above it. In its ice waters trout abound, trout whose delicacy of taste rivals any found in any land.

Leaving the Teton park the highway follows through a broken plateau country where beautiful forests and rushing streams abound. Twenty-two miles from the Teton park the highway enters Yellowstone park. For some miles the highway hangs just above the Lewis river in a very scenic canyon. Then the canyon opens into a river valley where the river is lazy in broad meadows. Suddenly the highway crosses the river as the river drops over the northern rim of the valley. Then the highway climbs the rim to seek the river and finds only the beautiful Lewis lake.

Lewis lake is several miles long and almost as wide. There is a wonderful public campground near the northern most extremity. Though the campground extends for a mile or more camp space is always scarce for this is one of the choice fishing spots in the park. The prevailing winds usually keep the mosquitoes down in the northern part of the lake but the timber and land protected south end of the lake is literally storming with mosquitoes. If you don't believe in a storm of mosquitoes just visit south Lewis lake in July.

After leaving Lewis lake the highway goes up and down, over and around, hills and dales, through continual forest of Lodge Pole pine until it suddenly breaks through to the shores of beautiful Yellowstone lake. By this time you have absorbed a little of the beauty of this lake that somehow seems to blend in with the sky, you have reached Thumb camp. The lake appears so high that it seems in danger of spilling out of its cradle so near the tops of the peaks and spilling down the sides of the earth.

Thumb camp gets its name from the shape of the lake. The lake is shaped like an open hand and the camp is at the tip of the thumb. Here we got our first sight of that which sets Yellowstone apart from the rest of the world. There are no active geysers at Thumb but there the extinct geysers, mud-pots, thousands of boiling hot springs and steam arising out the edge of the lake, out of the forest, out of the meadows, in fact steam seems to come up at will. The campground is perhaps a half mile square and spills out into the forest for almost a mile. The campground itself has furnaces, vaults to place foods away from the bears, water, etc., the spillover in the forest campers must furnish their own utilities.

We used Thumb as a center from which we saw some of the thrills of the park. We spent only four days in the park and four days is time only for a few of the highlights.

We left our camp early the next day, of course our main point of interest was Old Faithful, and turned westward over a high plateau then down into a deep canyon thense up again. Everywhere where the terrain was not straignt up or straght down were the Lodge Pole pine with here and there a place out for lakes. Small streams tumbles into larger ones. Always there were the little streamers of smoke rising through the trees and here and there would be acres of smoke rising in clouds. Here and there we caught glimpses from towering heights of lakes and rivers we never contacted. Then there was the long decline that lead to a sea of steam jets and a land of enchantment. We were suddenly hemmed in by a spread of building and acres of camps and then we were there. A crowd was gathering for it was time for Old Faithful to perform. We hastened to leave our auto and witness Old Faithful sending her gorgeous mop of grey steam and water high into the air. Again and again she sent her fairies up and up and then tiring she settled down to moody smoldering from which she would awake in about an hour.

We left Old Faithful to her brooding and next stopped at Castle Rock geyser. The Castle is a tempermental Old Girl and puffs and snorts but plays only when she is in the mood. It may be days or it may be hours between her acts but when she goes into action she dwarfs Old Faithful. We watched and watched but she was not in the mind to play though she huffed and puffed and we expected to see her go into action at any moment. Just a few feet away from her base was a beautiful pool from which a mist arose. This pool seemed to be attempting to atone for the boisterous behavior of her giant sister. There were lesser pools and many bubbling springs all about the quarrelsome old lass but she ignored them. This day she would not act but we had seen her perform and she was wonderful. She sends sprays and columns of steam and water to a height two or three times that of Old Faithful and somtimes she plays for almost a half hour. We had seen Old Faithful and we had seen much.

—Sargum Sprout.

VETERANS' GUIDE

A STITCH IN TIME

The Veterans Administration estimates that four out of five veterans widows who are suddenly faced with the necessity of filing claims for pensions or compensation find themselves unable to lay their hands immediately upon copies of public records necessary to establish the claims.

BRING YOUR FILE UP TO DATE

If you have received, or are receiving, benefits from the VA, have a case folder on file with the VA and have been assigned a "C" (claim) number, then one of the most important steps a veteran can take to protect his family in the event of his death is to make sure his case folder is kept up to date. Widows of veterans of World War 1 are eligible for pensions upon the veteran's death if his period of service meets certain requirements and if the widow's income does not exceed $1,000 per year if she is alone, or $2,500 if the widow has children. The widows of World War II veterans with compensable service-connected disabilities at the time of death are also eligible for benefits under certain conditions. Therefore, every veteran of either war should have the required copies of public records in his "C" folder which would expedite the claim for pension or compensation for which his widow may apply. Records to be placed in the file (only if the file is already established) should include: a certified copy of the public record of marriage; certified copies of previous marriages and copies of court records of diviorce or annulment; copies of birth certificates of all children under 18 years of age; copy of the veteran's birth certificate if he has eligible dependents who may receive benefits.

THE VETERAN'S "C" NUMBER must be written on all such documents for file to insure positive identification.

It may take a little time now for the veteran himself to track down this information from the appropriate sources, but in the long run it saves considerable time and anxious waiting on the part of the widow if a long search must be made after the veteran's death.

THREE WAYS TO SAY IT:

1. Building costs have increased about 73% since 1944.
2. A building having replacement cost of $10,000 in 1944 would cost $17,300 to replace today.
3. A building insured for 100% of its replacement costs in 1944 is insured for only 60% of its replacement costs today.

BUT THEY ALL MEAN:

STANTON

Mr. and Mrs. James Kimball and children, James Jr., Joan Dee and Jacqueline, grandchildren and great-grandchildren of the John Maloneys, who have been visiting here returned to their home in San Francisco on Sunday. They were accompanied by Billy Mills, another great-grandson, who has been spending the summer.

Heeter-Adams Nuptials Event In Stanton

St. Boniface Catholic church was the scene of the recent wedding ceremony which united in marriage Miss Lorraine Heeter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Heeter of Anaheim and Walter (Skee) Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Adams of 7061 Monroe street, Stanton. The Reverend Father Coleman solemnized the double ring ceremony in the presence of 200 guests.

The bride slowly walked down the white carpeted aisle on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. A. F. Faust, who also played accompaniment for John Lindsay when he sang "Ave Maria" and "The Lord's Prayer." Her white satin gown was fashioned with a lace yoke and full skirt ending in a train. A coronet held her fingertip veil in place and she carried a white prayer book on which rested a large orchid.

Dressed in lavendar with a halo of matching shade and carrying yellow roses, Mrs. McCarthy served as matron of honor. Other attendants were Miss Rosemary Gardiner and Mrs. Alice McDermott, who wore dresses of green styled similar to that of the matron of honor. Their halo headdress was made of green net and their bouquets were pink carnations.

Forrest Parker assumed the duties of best man and ushers were Earl Gautschy and Jack Arnett.

The outdoor tea room of the Capilla de San Antonio was setting for the reception which followed the ceremony. Hostesses were Miss Gerre Holman, Miss Phyllis Herman and Mrs. Ross Walker, with Mrs. Norman Nichols attending the guest book.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Adams were graduated from Anaheim High school. Mrs. Adams has been employed as a stenographer at the Mutual Citrus Products company, in Anaheim and her husband is employed with the Gross Manufacturing company in Arcadia. They will make their home at 130 West street in Anaheim.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hudson were their nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Pickrell of Van Nuys. Later they were joined by Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Vierheller of Whittier.

Mr. and Mrs. Conna Pollock attended the all state picnic at Ontario on Saturday. The Pollocks are from Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Villa are the parents of a six pound 13 ounce daughter born in St. Joseph's hospital on August 26.

Friends and families of the local Lions club are invited to attend a potluck dinner to be held on September 7 in the air machine gun factory of Paul McGlashan on 10732 Stanton avenue. Arrangements are being made for an evening of entertainment.

Tony Campa of Los Angeles has been spending the summer at the Roy Hudson home and may stay on and attend school here.

Visiting the Roy Allens for the past week were their daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Ted Smock and Maurine of Escondido, formerly of Stanton. Other recent guests entertained by the Allens were Mr. and Mrs. Oden Locke and daughters, Kathleen and Charlotte from Denver, Colorado. During their stay here they visited the beaches and had dinner at Knott's Berry farm where they were joined by Mrs. Allen's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Johnston of Hollywood.

Mr. and Mrs. Magdalano Najera, who reside at 10941 Stanton avenue, are the parents of a daughter born in St. Joseph's hospital on August 26, weighing seven pounds four ounces.

Sunshine And Shower Club Enjoy Pot Luck

Members of the Sunshine and Shower club enjoyed a picnic pot luck at Anaheim City park. Conversation and a visit to the gardens of the park occupied the afternoon hours.

Attending were Mrs. Sada Larson and her son, Wallace Larson of Los Alamitos; Mrs. Walter Prather and Mrs. Inez Prather and son, Isaac, of Santa Ana; Mrs. Ruth Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Briggs, Mrs. Charles Moolick, Mrs. Conna Pollock, Mrs. Leo Mahoney, Mrs. Milton Hasell, Mrs. Verna Clark, Mrs. Roy Hudson, Tony Campa, Paul Benson and Lee Benson, all of Stanton.
